

Rezension aus Japan zu Jazz Live Trio CD «Songs for Laila» TCB 37 702.

The latest trio album was recorded just six months after the previous one. This album was recorded on the occasion of his 89th birthday. This time, however, he dispensed with the wind instruments and recorded under his characteristic name "Jazz Live Trio". There is no sign of a decline in his compositional activity or his performances, and he develops an elaborate trio music that gives each song a different color. Although the two backing members are much younger than the leader, there is a great sense of togetherness between them and their individuality as a trio is clearly expressed. Koenig's smooth fingering is surprising, but what stands out most this time is his talent for composition.
